There is growth in the country as thousands of rural consumers find their dreams outside the city. The rural lifestyle market consists of buyers who are already living the country life — and those who are considering it. These mainstream rural consumers enjoy a higher-than-average income — and they spend their extra cash on their homes, gardens, livestock, and equipment.

- More than 36% of all farms are considered recreational/lifestyle farms, with an additional 21% considered retirement farms.
- Small farms are growing because of better technology and farming techniques, rising demand for organic and local produce, and more direct-to-consumer sales (i.e., farmers markets).

Grit reaches this growing and lucrative rural market. We take your brand directly into the kitchens, gardens, pastures, backyards, and smartphones of rural America. Our rural readers are looking for products and services such as lawn and property maintenance equipment, livestock and pet products, tillers, and more.
